

Frock of Dark Brown Henrietta Goods, Trimmed With Satin Cording, Is Chic

Evening World's Original Fashions for Home Dressmakers.

All questions concerning designs and materials of dresses should be addressed to the Fashion Editor of The Evening World. No patterns for designs in this column can be obtained, but with the description furnished it is a simple matter to work out patterns.

A new and distinctive feature of this department is the illustration of the different pieces of the pattern necessary for the making of the garment. It shows how easily the attractive design can be executed, and also serves as a guide in cutting one's own pattern if such is needed.

DESCRIPTION.

A chic little frock of dark brown henrietta goods is trimmed with satin cording on the waist in a low arm-hole effect, and around the hips of the straight skirt hangs from an empire belt. Brown velvet buttons trim the side seams nearly to the bottom where a point of brown satin is inserted on either side. A vest portion of brown satin on the waist, which continues to a point on the skirt, is trimmed with yellow glass buttons while tiny points of yellow satin turn over at the neck. The cuffs on the sleeves are of brown satin lined with yellow satin whose points turn back to view, while a brown velvet belt with a line of chambray through the middle adds a distinctive touch to the toilette.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Dear Fashion Editor:
I desire to get an afternoon dress of some silk, and would appreciate very much if you will advise what kind of goods, color, style and trimming would look well. Am seventeen years of age, tall and not stout. F. C.

A pretty light-brown charmeuse frock trimmed up the front with a low plait, having double buttons down the center of it, could have the back of the skirt draped up under two deep crosswise plaits in panner style. On the waist have a broad collar of brown chiffon cloth start from under the bon plait, also have turn-back cuffs of chiffon cloth above a cream net of chiffon at the wrist, while a yellow collar of cream net finishes the neck.

Dear Fashion Editor:
I have an old-fashioned shoulder cape of my mother's made of heavy silk, trimmed with velvet flowers—black. Would like very much to use it in some way for next winter as a dress or coat. There would only be enough goods for waist without sleeves and I cannot match it. Also kindly tell me what is the most becoming fur I can wear. Am twenty-nine years old, light brown hair, dark brown eyes, a mousy complexion but color. Am fit, well proportioned. H. G. W.

Combine black satin with your material as a skirt portion draped below the knees in panner style, and showing of velvet at the point of your shoulder velvet material, if you should have enough left from your waist. Make the latter of that same material, fitting plain at the waist line and ending down a bit in the front and back, finished with a satin cord. This done away with a belt. Have a skirted chemise and long, full sleeves of black chiffon, gathered into a satin cuff; also have a small piece of satin show below the yoke of chemise. Moccasin fur will become you.

Dear Fashion Editor:
I am twenty-eight years old, dark hair and eyes. Being quite stout, find it hard to design my waists. Have six very fine lady Irish crochet medallions, a pair of double crocheted balls for each medallion, and one yard of half-inch wide edging. Would like the waist so I could wear collar or not. I like short sleeves best and nothing fancy. J. R.

On a French voile waist run five groups of tucks, trimming between them with four rows of the edging, which start from under the medallions just above the bustline, thus forming a sort of yoke effect. Finish the neck with a row of the edging, while a straight collar of the voile, hemmed, could turn over it for a low neck effect, while the Irish one could be used for a high collar. A row of the edging up the back of the sleeve, headed near the top with a medallion, could terminate under a turn-back cuff of voile, hemstitched.

CORSICAN, WHICH HIT BERG, IN LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Aug. 22.—The Allan line steamer Corsican, which struck an iceberg east of the Isle of Rhé, near Newfoundland, Aug. 12 while on the way here from Montreal, has arrived here. The forepart of the vessel was protected with collision bulkheads. Otherwise she showed no sign of damage.

The passengers held a meeting shortly before arriving and presented to Capt. Cook a gold watch and a purse of gold. Several speeches were made in which the passengers paid high tributes to the Captain, who responded: "I am proud of all the men under my command. They performed their duty well under very trying circumstances. Every man was ready to respond in case of emergency, but all felt that they had only done their duty."

Hit by John D. F. Trouble.
Insurance companies have been stirred by the trouble among the laborers on the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills, N. Y., and several owners of property have been informed that their policies will be cancelled unless the trouble is settled quickly. Sheriff William J. Doyle has six deputies on duty and all was reported quiet yesterday. The laborers returned to work. It was said some troublemakers had been weeded out.

TWO HURLED ACROSS STREET BY EXPLOSION OF NAPHTHA IN STORE

Many Windows Are Cracked and Panic Is Created by Blast in Clinton Street.

An explosion of naphtha fumes in the dyeing and cleaning establishment of Kirchenblum & Singer, at No. 143 Clinton street, to-day, rocked the neighborhood and cracked scores of windows, but no one was injured.

Morris Singer, one of the proprietors, had been cleaning gloves in the rear of the shop when he was called to the street. He neglected to screw the top on a one-gallon can of naphtha and the escaping fumes were ignited by a gas jet.

Kirchenblum, Singer's partner, was standing in the doorway, with an aged man named Albert Katz, of No. 143 Clinton street, when the explosion occurred. Kirchenblum and Katz crossed the street without touching the ground, followed by a shower of glass, but, strangely enough, neither was hurt. A Clinton street car was going by and several of its windows were cracked. The car was empty and the motorman didn't wait around to ask questions. No. 143 Clinton street is a three-story building, with two families living above the dyeing shop. Every window in the building was demolished and there was a scramble to get out. Next door, at No. 145, there was a similar shattering of glass and many windows were broken in the rear of Public School No. 139, which faces on Broome street. The explosion was followed by a fire which the firemen put out with hand grenades. The damage was slight.

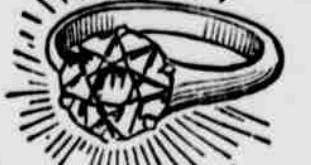

Don't Poison Baby.
FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poison-dose produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CANTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Cantoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The great attraction of FATIMA CIGARETTES is due solely to their tobacco flavor—the natural flavor of pure, high-grade leaf made rarely distinctive by skillful blending.
